

Terms and Conditions

Notes

Competition can be replaced by Contest, Game

Participant can be replaced by Candidate

Organising Body can be replaced by Organising Company

Competition Terms and Conditions

Quatre / Four

Organised by i-D on behalf of the company

Article 1: Organising Company

The company VICE, located 75 Boulevard Macdonald, 75019, organises a competition called "" on behalf of the company Boucheron SAS, a simplified stock corporation capitalised at 2.000.000,00 Euros with an office located 26, place Vendôme – 75 001 Paris, and registered with the Registry of Commerce and Parisians Companies “Registre du Commerce et des Sociétés de Paris”, under the number 330 160 367 (hereafter “the organising body”).

By taking part in this competition, participants accept fully and completely. The present terms and conditions and its application by the organising body.

The specific conditions of this competition will be brought to the attention of participants via a link located on the website

<https://partners.vice.com/boucheron/boucheron-x-id-uk/news/win-a-series-of-original-art-works-with-boucheron/>

Article 2: Conditions of Participation

This competition is open to any adult individuals, based in France Metropole, with access to the internet and an email address; except from employees and direct relatives working for any of the companies having participated directly or indirectly to the organisation and production of this competition.

Participation to this competition is free and without any obligation to purchase. It is limited to one participation per person (one email) during the whole duration of the competition.

In the case of multiple entries, all participations of the person involved will be rejected and considered as void.

In order to take part in this competition, participants will have to go on the website <https://partners.vice.com/boucheron/boucheron-x-id-uk/news/win-a-series-of-original-art-works-with-boucheron/>. They will have to register by filling out a form. During the registration, participants will have to complete all the compulsory fields. In order to validate their participation to the competition, each participant will have to include three other email addresses. Any postal address will be voided.

The organising body retains the right to carry out all the verifications it considers necessary as regards to the identity and email addresses of the participants.

Participants who haven't given the means to verify their personal details and given their full identity, or given out false or incomplete information, will be disqualified. People refusing for their personal data to be collected, recorded and used in a way that specifically related to them and is strictly in relation to the competition's will also be disqualified.

Each participant taking part in the game implies full, unreserved acceptance of these terms and conditions. In case of breach of this regulation, the participation and eventual rewards will be automatically cancelled.

Article 3: Time frame of the competition

The competition will run from Monday 4th December until 22nd December 2017.

The draw for prizes will taken place the week after, and the result of the competition result will be announced on the 9th January 2018, following the draw of winners on January 4th 2018. Winners will be contacted directly by Boucheron's customer service.

Article 4: Choosing Competition winners

The draw helping to pick winners will take place in the presence of a bailiff, amongsts the participants having gone through the complete registration process. Four participants will be picked at random, and four lots of four artworks will be attributed to four groups of participants.

Incomplete applications will not be taken into consideration. Therefore, any false or incomplete information will be considered null and voided, and will disqualify the participant to its potential prize. The prize that would have been awarded to the winner will not be redistributed.

Article 5: Prizes

The winners will be announced after a thorough check of their eligibility to the prize. The participants will be contacted by the Customer Service Boucheron by email, and through the email address included on their contact form created during the registration, on January 9th as mentioned in article 3.

The competition will entail 16 lots. four participants will be drawn. Each of the four winners will be given four work of arts each to be shared with its team. The lot will be sent out by mail or other method of delivery outlined in the email sent out by the participant.

A lot includes: Four artworks by the artist selected by the winner during the participation to the competition on the page <https://partners.vice.com/boucheron/boucheron-x-id-uk/news/win-a-series-of-original-art-works-with-boucheron/>, of a nominal value of 250 Euros.

Article 6: Liability

The organising body's liability is strictly limited to the delivery of lots of prizes won effectively and validly.

During prizes-attributing time, the organising body will not be held responsible in case the participant uses a fake email address.

The organising body and the stakeholder reserve the right to shorten, extend, report, modify or cancel the present competition in some circumstances. In any event, the organising body shall not be held liable.

Moreover, the organising body reserves the right to cancel or suspend the competition without notice in case of fraud.

The organising body declines any liability for any incident and/or accident which may take place after the possession of the lot awarded, and/or during its usage, and in general as regards to any insatisfaction as regards to the delivery and/or usage of the lots.

The Organising Body reserves the right for any reason that it may see fit to modify the competition, as well as conditions and the running of the competition, and/or the gains allocated.

Article 7: Access Rights

The Organising Body is responsible for handling all participants' personal data in order to run the competition. In the case participants accept to sign up to a Newsletter from the Organising Body, then their personal data may be used for commercial purposes, mainly in the aim to send through information and news related to Boucheron products, offers, special sales, promotional campaigns as well as events and initiatives this newsletter.

Collecting data is necessary for the running of this competition and is aimed to specific services concerned by the Organising Body.

In accordance with the law on freedom of information, you have a right to query, access, amend and object on legitimate grounds to the processing of any data relating to you. To make your request, please write to the Organising Body (name and address of company), alongside a copy of you

Collecting data is compulsory to take part in this competition. Therefore, any person that exercise the right to delete their personal data before the end of the game shall be deemed to have waived and abandoned their participation.

Article 8: Disputes and appeals

If the lot did not get delivered to its intended recipient for whatever reason, beyond the organiser's control (i.e the participant having moved out without updating its address), it will remain the property of Boucheron.

The lot cannot be exchanged for another object, not for any monetary value, and will not give place to any partial or total reimbursement. Participants are informed that selling or exchanging lots is strictly forbidden.

Article 9: Filing of the regulation

This set of regulations is listed by the associated bailiff Maitre DONIOL located at 8 Rue Souilly 77410 Claye Souilly. This set of regulation is available on the site <https://partners.vice.com/boucheron/boucheron-x-id-uk/news/win-a-series-of-original-art-works-with-boucheron/> during the whole duration of the competition, and this until 9th January 2018.

Article 10: Governing law and jurisdiction

This set of regulations is subject to French Law. By participating in this competition, participants automatically agree to be bound by the terms of these terms and conditions.

Article 11: Reimbursement of Participation costs

The reimbursement of internet connection costs necessary for taking part in this competition will be covered, within the boundaries of a three minute connection, based on the cost of local communication based on the Orange/France Telecom rate active during the writing of these terms and conditions (or 0.16 euros per minute). Participants who do not pay connection costs due to the volume of their communications (who have an "unlimited" connection or who use cable or ADSL) are not entitled to reimbursement. The reimbursement will be made upon simple written application addressed to the organising body using the address cited in article 1.

Participants must clearly indicate their name, forename, full address, and must imperatively join to their request a R.I.B or R.I.P (banking information), as well as a photocopy of the relevant bill, including the date and hours of connection clearly highlighted.

A reimbursement of the costs of applying for reimbursement shall be made on the basis of an unregistered letter of less than 20 grams franked at the economy rate.

Article 12 - Dispute

By taking part in this competition, participants consent to comply purely and simply with these sets of terms and conditions, and with the decisions of the Organising Body, and with the planned and unplanned outcomes of the cases.

The present terms and conditions are subject to French law. To be taken into account, eventual disputes and contestations relating to the competition must be formulated in written form by mail to the organising body, and at the address indicated in article 1, and at the latest ninety (90) days after the end date of participation to the competition. In cases of disagreement between the Parties to the conflict as to the application or interpretation of the provisions of the present terms and conditions, and should the parties fail to reach an amicable agreement, the Paris Courts will be deemed the sole competent judge.